SEOUL, WEDNESDAY, DEC. 5th, 1923. ROBERT YOUNG MEMORIAL.

year Korea lost one of her boscm friends person of Robert Young, editor of The Chronicle, a profound scholar, an eminent ist, over whose untimely death the world alike friend and for, His long and useful ice in this section of the world brought him to general recognition as an authority on the icht and the rest of the world relied on him his fearless articles and accurate news despite

During the anteged conspiracy case, and young sent a special correspondent over here to report the whole proceedings, and afterward had them compiled into a hook form which stands to-day as a monument of his labour and the interest he had for Kurça. He was ever alert and sympathetic in behalf of troubled Korea through the columns of his valuable paper. Even this day one seasoned contemporary, continues his day our esteemed contemporary continues he same policy as if Mr. Young were still alive, which is a credit to his successors.

Mr. Young was the lest critic Japan ever had, the bereaved Koba community recently strove pay, him the honours due, according to The payor. Chromicle, which reads: Chronicle, which reads:

onpan, Chromical, which retails Kasugano cometery by public subscription in memory of the late Mr. Robert Young, Founder and Editor for more than thirty years of the Chromicle, was recently completed, and a large number of wreaths were

The monument is beautifully proportioned, and, with the small enclosure about it, presents an appearance of dignified simplicity in keeping with its object. It bears the inscription, "Robert Young, 1858-1922," and, lower down, "Erected ne Friends of Robert Young, 1923."

by the Friends of Robert Young, 1923.

It is graffying to note that the Kobe Municipality at a special meeting has decided to continue the work on the improvement of the Recreation Ground, for which the surplus (the greater part of the large subscriptions sent) of the Memorial Fund was given, this work having been interrupted for some time owing to the preoccupation of the local authorities with work occupation of the local authorness with working out of the earthquake.

The idea of this memorial originated with tain D. H. James, M. C., who collected the erriptions and carried out the whole project. d for the promotion of truth and sincerity.
